

THE MAGHREB
STUDIES
ASSOCIATION

L'ASSOCIATION
DES ETUDES
DU MAGHREB

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION FORM

The Contemporary Situation in the Countries of the Maghreb and the Middle East

Maghreb Studies Association Conference
St. Antony's College, Oxford, 11th February 2012
Registration deadline: 30th January 2012

Subjects covered in the conference will include social change and cultural and literary aspects as well as political issues. More details will be available on our website, early in 2012. Proceedings of the conference will be published in a future issue of The Maghreb Review. Admission to the conference will be strictly by pre-registration. Admission is free, light refreshments will be available but please make your own meal arrangements.

ABOUT THE MAGHREB STUDIES ASSOCIATION

The Maghreb Studies Association, founded in 1981, is an independent international Association open to those interested in any aspect of the Maghreb, Islamic culture and Mediterranean studies. Its aims are to encourage and co-ordinate research and the exchange of ideas in a wide range of fields, including History, Political Science, Economics, Environmental Studies, Linguistics, Literature, Sociology, Anthropology, and the Islamic culture of the Maghreb and Mediterranean region.

We would also like to promote theoretically informed comparison with neighbouring regions, including sub-Saharan Africa, the Iberian peninsula, southern France, Italy, the former Ottoman lands, and the Middle East.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP:

The Association is uniquely qualified to foster fruitful discussion and promote innovative research on all aspects of the Maghreb (Algeria, Libya, Mauritania, Morocco, and Tunisia) past, present and future.

The Association also has links with universities and research institutions world wide and government organisations in the United Kingdom and North Africa. As the leading international association in its field, it is the ideal contact for advice, whether for business, journalism, or field research.

ATTENDING THE MAGHREB STUDIES ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE

Due to the limited seating available, would those interested in attending the conference please complete this registration form and return it as soon as possible .

I wish to attend The Maghreb Studies Association conference:

Name :
Affiliation :
Address :
.....
.....
.....
Email :

Please return this form to
The Maghreb Studies Association
45 Burton Street
London
WC1H 9AL
UK
By 30 January 2012

Admission is free and by pre-registration only. Donations will be gratefully accepted at the conference. Light refreshments will be available; meals will not be provided (please make your own arrangements).